NEW PAYROLL PEAK IS $226,000 MONTHLY

Mines of Nevada County Now Employ 1,778 Men

The first monthly mining development issue published by the Nevada City Nugget in April listed nineteen mining companies and 1208 men employed with a payroll of $176,000.

This is the September Mining Development issue of the Nevada City Nugget. On the chart of progress published today on this page are listed 36 mining properties now being operated in Nevada County, which employ 1775 men who receive a monthly total of $226,000, a monthly increase of $50,000, approximately, in six months in payroll.

In six months the number of mines in operation has doubled. This means that capital is rapidly finding its way, in very substantial amounts, into this county for mining development.

From now on its believed, that since gold may be sold at the world price on the open market of th world, the mining industry, along the Mother Lode and particularly in Nevada county, premier gold producer of the state, will move forward with gigantic strides.

Old properties are being re-opened and worked again under modern conditions, which in former times, with pioneer methods in vogue, proved unprofitable. Occasionally a new property such as the Grass Valley Premier is opened and pushed rapidly toward profitable production.

Some of the old properties which are now being rehabilitated are the Banner and Central mines of the Lava Cap, the Federal Loan and the Constitution, the Spanish, the Colorado and the Eagle Bird. In fact a roll call of the properties now being mined or developed, will show that nearly all of them at one time or another have been producers, and some of them of startlingly huge values.

Owing to the fact that Nevada County is regarded as one of the "white spots" on the map of the United States, a large number of unemployed men is being attracted here. While approximately 1775 men are steadily employed in Nevada County mines, there are hundreds of "rustlers" daily applying for employment at the mines who have absolutely no chance in the world for a job. This is a warning to those who have no means of subsistance NOT to come to Nevada County looking for employment.

PUBLISHER STUNG BY HORNET, USES WORDS OF BISHOP ANCESTOR

C. Berkley Anderson, one of the Nugget publishers, had occasion recently to use some of the prayerful language that got his great ancestor a bishop's hat in the days long agone. He had borne patiently an accident in which the metal saw in the back shop had chewed up his index finger on his left hand, which happens to be the one Berkley uses most. Not a swear word, no sir, when this happened.

But when he drove down to Roseville a day later a hornet bent on thumbing a ride, was unexpectly swirled into Berkley's shirt sleeve. The hornet in a great panic started tearing his way back to daylight again, leaving a hot trail wherever he passed to catch his breath. He stung his way from shoulder to wrist and finally buzzed out without resuming his ride. It was then that Berkley cut loose with the language. He did not wreck the car but it did swerve a little.

RAPID STRIDES MADE ON GRASS VALLEY PREMIER

Mr. E. H. McMurray, president of the Keystone Divide Mining company reports rapid progress is being made sinking the Premier shaft. During the past week timbering has been completed. A new 1450 pound capacity bucket has been installed and placed in operation with the new hoist and head frame. A sump has been completed on the 100 foot level and duplicate pumps are installed to handle the water on this level, so as not to hinder sinking operations.

The present objective is to open ore on the 200 foot level, in the vein now exposed in the 55 foot and the 100 foot levels, and to continue sinking to 300 feet.

The property presents an excellent picture of progress in view of the fact that six months ago the only equipment in evidence was a windlass and portable compressor standing at the collar of a shaft eleven feet deep. Since that time a total of 839 acres of highly mineralized lnad has been acquired to date. Over $50,000.00 has been expended for development work and equipment. Two vein systems have been explored by short shafts and trenches over a considerable distance. The Premier shaft is being sunk to the 300 foot level and the vein has been opened on the 55 and 100 foot levels up to five and one-half feet wide with values over $40 in gold and up to 22 ounces of silver.

Considerable activity is centering around the Keystone. A new strike has been made by the Clinch interests on the Persinni ranch joining the North East section of the Keystone property. Active prospecting is taking place and a shaft has been started on the Kohler ranch just east of the Keystone's Premier shaft. The Blake ranch joing the Keystone on the west is reported to have been taken over by outside interests. R. C. Burwester of Salt Lake has taken over property to the north and states that work will commence immediately. The Black Bear is active on the south.

The ore found in practically all of the properties in the district around the Keystone is so called base ore in which the gold is intimately associated with pyrite. The old timers have all been aware of the outcroppings and veins in this section and made many attempts to work the ones without success. The advent of the flotation process has made high recoveries possible when treating these ores. This fact has opened up an entirely new district east of Grass Valley and Nevada City which indicates a very potential production. This is particularly enhanced by the increased price for gold and the possibility of higher price for silver wihch accurs in appreciable amounts.

YOUTH ACCUSED OF THEFT FROM OFFICER

Ralph Hendvoir, 18, of Minnesota, who was with the local C. C. C. Camp, was arrested Wednesday evening by Sheriff George R. Carter, for the alleged theft of a $200 check, a watch and a camera from an officer's car at Colusa recently.

The boys from the local camp went to Colusa to play a game of baseball with boys of that city. Hendvoir is accused of going through the officers coat in a parked car and taking the articles. It is alleged he tried to cash the check and the arrest followed.

He is now lodged in the Nevada County jail awaiting arraignment.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Power of San Francisco spent last week end in Nevada City with her mother, Mrs. A. W. Lester. Mr. Power is assistant attorney general of the state of California under Attorney General U. S. Webb.

Englebright Explains Gold Sale Regulations

"Yes I know the President has lifted the embargo on gold exports. I know that we should get the world price now for all newly produced gold. But the fact is we are not getting it."

This was the declaration Tuesday of a well known gold buyer in Nevada City.

Mine operators with stacks of concentrates stored at Selby's smelter, waiting for refining and payment, also declared that they were not getting the world gold price, but only advances on the old $20.67 per ounce price.

But Wednesday the situation began to clear. The Bank of America, after a wait of several days, did receive the necessary affidavit blanks which must be made filed with every shipment of gold. According to the regulations of the Treasury these affidavits must give the date the gold was mined, the place where it was mined or produced, weight tags must be attached to the shipment.

BANKS POSITION

Banks advance money on gold received by them for shipment but on no price basis, leaving an ample margin, of course, for their own security.

With the receipt of the necessary blanks, which probably were printed under the direction of the Treasury department in Washington and then sent to the various U. S. mints, there seems now no further obstacle in the way of the miners receiving the world price of gold within two or three days after the mints have received their consignment.

NO NEED OF DELAY, SAYS ENGLEBRIGHT

Congressman Harry Englebright, who is recovering from a very severe attack of laryngitis that earlier in the week threatened to develope into pneumonia ,was permitted by his physician Dr. Tickell to receive a representative of the Nevada City Nugget yesterday for a brief interview.

When told of the delay which has followed the President's order, issued August 29, in actually working out the details of getting the gold into the world market, Congressman Englebright said:

"It is quite possible that some of this delay is due to the necessity of setting up the machinery, getting the blanks, which the order prescribed printed and in the hands of the mint masters.

TREASURY REGULATIONS

"But the regulations issued by the Treasury Department are very explicit and there should be no further delay. The Treasury released its regulations on September 5, for carrying out the President's order of August 29.

"These regulations provide that that the mints shall receive the gold and then notify the Federal Reserve Banks in their respective districts of the amount of gold they have on hand for sale.

"The Federal Reserve banks on day of notification and on the following day shall offer this gold to duly licensed buyers of gold in the arts and industries ,at the world price fixed at the hour of sale.

"In event the arts and industries do not absorb the daily offering of gold, then the Federal Reserve bank sells it abroad as any other commodity, such as wheat, cotton or copper, is sold, at the world price then obtaining.

TERMS OF PAYMENT

"The producer of gold, under the regulations is paid 98 per cent of the world price on telegraphic advices that the sale has been consummated, the two per cent being with-held for mail confirmation. Under these regulations producers should receive 98 per cent of the world price for gold which has ranged between $28 and $31 per ounce, within three or four days from the time of its delivery to the mint."

Mr. Englebright, despite his illness was in high spirits yesterday, glad to be back from the heat and turmoil of Washington, and very confident that a new and brighter era has opened for the gold mining industry.

NEVADA COUNTY REUNION SUNDAY IN OAKLAND

Plans are complete for the eighteenth annual reunion of former residents of Nevada county which is being held next Sunday, September 17, at Mosswood Park, Oakland. Several Nevada county residents will go to Oakland to enjoy a visit with the many former old-time residents.

Among those planning to attend are: John W. O'Neill, Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Buckner, and Mrs. Ray Murchie.

Louis Sirard, president, formerly of Grass Valley, is in charge of the Nevada County Reunion Association and has been making a great effort to arrange an attractive program. The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce is shipping several boxes of beautiful Nevada county apples which are given to those who attend.

Former Judge George L. Jones, principal speaker, is assisting in a fine program that has been carefully arranged. Judge Jones is temporarily residing in Berkeley, but his heart is in Nevada county and he will most eloquently address the former residents on the county of his birth.

Nevada County always rejoices with the success of each of her children whether they reside within her borders or in some distant spot. The county from its history has had a long, steady stream of illustrious citizens, the number far outstanding any other county in the state we believe even though it has never had a large population at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilson and daughter are moving to Grass Valley today to make their home with Mr. Wilson's brother.

FEDERAL FUND TO PROVE UP MINES, PLAN

At the seventy first anniversary celebration of the founding of the San Francisco Mining Exchange in San Francisco last Monday evening an importat step was taken by the assembled brokers and investors toward obtainnig from the Federal Recovery Administration a fund of $500,000 for opening up and developing what are known as "promising" mine prospects.

It was declared by a number of speakers that a bridge was needed between the discovery of a mine prospect and the development necessary to show that it contained values worth mining.

Owners of such prospects would be assisted to develop their holdings after competent mining engineers had declared them worthy. It was stated that the fund could be reimbursed through an output percentage levied upon the properties that actually proved to be productive.

W. W. Esterly, chairman of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce Mining Committee, who attended this meeting regards it as one the most promising and significant developments. Other Nevada county mining men attending the meeting were C. E. Clinch and E. H. McMurray.

THE FLOWER'S CALL

Western breezes rustle gently
Thru her groves of fir and pine,
Olden memories link her present
With the days of forty nine;
Like a queen she stands sedately
By her singing mountain rills—
Beautiful Nevada City—
City of the seven hills.

When gay Autumn decks the forests
In her robes of red and gold,
And the flowers of field and garden
All their loveliness unfold,
Then with pride we can't dissemble,
We invite our friends to share,
All the wonders we have nurtured,
With our tenderest love and care.

And the flowers breathe a message—
To the ones who linger here,
"We must fade, but beauty lingers
In the heart from year to year;
And the loveliness that charms you
In this radiant, perfumed place—
Will return, a gracious memory,
Fraught with every tender grace.

Come, the flowers now invite you;
And from blossoms fair and gay
Cull a rare bouquet of memories;
Just to cheer a gloomier day;
Come, Nevada City calls you—
To her carnival of pride,
Human hearts and flowers invite you
And our gates are opened wide.

—A. Merriam Conner.

Editor's Note— This timely and charming invitation in verse written by Mrs. A. Meriam Conner, is directed to all residents of Nevada City and their friends, bidding them come to the Annual Flower Show tomorrow in Redmen's Hall, under the auspices of the Garden Section of the Nevada City Civic Club.

NAUTICAL SCHOOL BUSY

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—Few schools can boast the employment record of the California Nautical school.

A report of the state department of education shows that out of 44 cadets graduated last month, 43 have obtained jobs with various steamship lines ,and a position for the 44th member of the class was expected "within the next day or two."

BOARD TO FIGHT FOR SALES TAX

SACRAMENTO, Sept., 14—(UP)—Formidable opposition to the sales tax sent the board of equalization into a huddle this week from which emerged Fred Stewart, board member with a two fisted speech bitterly attacking critics of the levy.

The board knows it must fight to retain the new tax. There is every indication the state federation of labor which meets annual convention at Monterey September 18, will formally launch a movement for its repeal. The federation is also expected to undertake an initiative movement to place the income tax issue on the ballot.

Governor Rolph's illness has brought the executive office to a standstill. The governor is unwilling to invite his political enemy, Lieutenant Frank Merriam, to discharge his official duties during his illness. Merriam is just as anxious to keep out of the governor's office unless tranactions of imperative business becomes absolutely necessary.

Meantime hospital attendants are experiencing difficulty in keeping the governor in bed. Physicians have said he will be well enough to return to his desk, in a month, but not before.

Lawrence Cobb, outspoken Los Angeles assemblyman and chairman of the ways and means committee, again attacked the administration this week on the charge it was deliberately attempting to sidestep the legislature's economy edicts.

Cobb referred to Finance Director Rolland Vandegrift's attempt to divert about $360,000 from the state emergency fund for varoius and sundry state agencies. Included were $72,000 for the narcotics division, $76,000 for the department of social welfare and $100,000 for forest fire protection.

The Los Angeles assemblyman took the position Vandegrift was assuming legislative functions and striving to override the legislature. He pointed out the solons had considered and turned down most of the fund requests which the director is now seeking to meet by emergency fund appropriations.

The state board of equalization declared open season, with an unrestricted bag limit, on truck operators who are attempting to dodge the truck license fee and gross receipts tax passed by the last legislature. One hundred patrolmen have been ordered to patrol highways and confiscate equipment of truck owners who have not met their tax obligations.

With the referendum petition campaign on, the Great Central Valley Water Project legislation apparently successful, supporters of the $170,000,000 enterprise are squaring away for the final battle, preceding election. They are virtually assured Governor Rolph will call a special election on the issue. There is every prospect the controversy will be bitter and personal. Already the P. G. & E. is charged with being the "power behind the scenes" in the referendum movement.

INCREASE IN CATCH OF COMMERCIAL FISH

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—Substantial gains in catches of commercial fish suitable for canning purposes are reported by the state division of fish and game.

A total of 13,700,000 pounds of fish were received for canning at San Pedro in July, an increase of approximately 100 per cent mainly accounted for by a catch of 10,370,000 pounds of mackeral.

At San Diego, 7,550,000 pounds were received as compared to 6,560,000 pounds last year, the division reported.

"There are corresponding increases for the calendar year to date. In San Pedro the catch was 137,443,000 pounds for the first seven months as compared to 70,208,000 pounds received by canneries during a similar period last year. At San Diego the corresponding figures are 26,135,000 and 18,138,000 pounds." the report said.

C. C. C. CAMPS TO REMAIN OPEN 6 MONTHS MORE

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—(UP)—Establishmet of 280 forest conservation camps in California this winter as provided in a plan that will provide employment of 70,000 men for a period of six months, state and federal officials estimate.

The program as it is being formulated would call for the establishment of four types of camps, including federal forest serice in national forests, erosion and flood control, state park and state division of forestry camps.

Of the total number of winter camps, it is proposed that three be located in the Nevada county area.

According to William Rider, deputy state forester, 111 of the camps would be under state superision, and the balance supervised by federal officials.

The camp program represents a substantial increase in the state and federal unemployment program inasmuch as there are only 167 CCC camps in operation at the present time.

If present plans are carried out, the new camps, some at locations already having camps and others on new sites, will be opened December 1.

It is estimated that each camp will have a personnel of 200 workers, or 56,000 men in the 280 camps. This total does not include the men required in supervisorial positions or those who will be employed indirectly by the operation of the camps. The over-all total, as a result, is estimated at 70,000 men.

In addition to these camps, Rider said it was possible the regular state unemployment camps, operated for the past two winters, would be opened again this year to provide work for an additional 10,000 men.

COMMODITIES IN SWIFT ADVANCE

By S. G. RUBINOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(UP)—Commodity prices are mounting steadily. There is no question about that. One sees evidence of commodity price increases not only in newspaper advertisements, acknowledged to be the best and most conservative barometers of business conditions, but one hears about it wherever one goes.

Eastern stores now are displaying window announcements saying prices are due for further increases. Manufacturers' costs, it is said have gone up. Labor and materials are costing more. All along the line, from producer to consumer, prices are moving upward.

All other things being equal, commodity prices are a reflection of business conditions, and of prosperity. Those who still remember that far back when the United States enjoyed its period of greatest relative prosperity, will recollect that prices were high then, and so were wages and salaries.

The combination of high prices, high wages, high salaries indicated merely one thing. And that was a high purchasing power. For unless people can spend ,they cannot buy, and no one can sell.

MAXIMUM EMPLOYMENT

But something else besides high prices, high wages, and high salaries is needed to bring prosperity. That one thing is maximum employment. It is toward that goal that the entire program of the National Industrial Recovery Act is moving.

Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, he of the unlimited energy, driving power, and courage, has announced that by fall millions of formerly unemployed will be back on the job. In fact, if I were to vouch a personal opinion, I would say that on this one point of maximum employment hinges the whole success of Roosevelt's great program to restore prosperity to the United States.

The point is this. If those who produce cannot consume what they create, there cannot be any prosperity, no matter how much wealth there may be in the United States, nor in which form that wealth may be.

BETTER DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH

Furthermore, if the conditions under which goods and services are produced tend in the direction of long hours, poor pay, sweat shops, and the like, there cannot be real prosperity. There must be, says President Roosevelt, a greater and more equitable distribution of wealth.

Just why it has taken the United States this long to reach this obvious conclusion is, difficult to say. Perhaps it is due to the speed with which we have been working, living, moving, and building in the United States all these years.

For one, I have believed always that, were it not for the World War, we would have been in the middle of the economic depression years sooner We were headed for that depression when the World War came along and destroyed what it took years and years to build. The replacement of that which was destroyed unlashed a tremendous amount of energy and work. The result was the boom just prior to the depression.

To bring back boom days, then means that people have got to be given opportunities to go back to work. More than that, it means that those who produce must be given an opportunity to consume what they produce. That's the literal philosophy underlying the National Industrial Recovery Act.

If You Feel Gloomy And Tired--Test This

You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow.

Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, oils, mineral waters, laxative pills, powders, herb teas, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of them.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—

You feel stronger, healthier, happier—life and color return to faded eyes and cheeks—appetite and digestion improve rapidly.

ROLPH ILLNESS HALTS ACTIVITY OF HIS RIVALS

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—Potential adversaries of Governor Rolph in the forthcoming gubernatorial primary race heaved a concerted sigh of relief when they learned the chief executive will soon be sufficiently recovered from his severe illness to return to his desk.

The candidates in the making knew if the governor's illness were such that he would be disabled during the remainder of his term, that their campaign guns would have been silenced.

It is evident, at this writing, that most of the governor's primary opponents plan to point scorfully at the Rolph administration as a typical example of inefficient state government and then draw a rosy picture of what it would be if they were elected. But if the executive were permanently disabled they would have been compelled to withhold their fire. The old American axion. "You can't kick a man when he's down" would have muzzled them completely.

The California horse racing commission got its first taste of criticism the other day. Assemblyman T. Maloney, San Francisco, co-author of the pari-mutuel bill, bitterly charged the commission's delay in granting race track permits was costing the state thousands of dollars.

Maloney felt the commission should speed up. He had little sympathy with the board's slow and cautious policy.

It's hardly likely, however, that the fulminations of Maloney or anybody else will bother the commission. It is an exceptionally able and independent body and avoiding politics as if it were the plague.

The commission feels its jurisdiction of horse racing under the parimutuel era can make or break the sport in California. It firmly believes if racing is established on the right basis, it will be successful and perpetual.

Governor Rolph's illness is largely due to his utter disregard of physical welfare. Whether business or pleasure bent, the chief executive never knows when to stop. His meals and sleep are irregular. Often he will arise at 3 a. m. or 4 a. m. go down to his office and work straight through until midnight. Once he worked all day and into the night without food or drink.

Just before the state fair opening, he was suffering from a severe cold. His face was flushed with fever and his voice hoarse. He knew he was sick and said so; yet he insisted on going to the fair where he opened the exposition and delivered long addresses. The inevitable occurred. He went to San Francisco and immediately developed bronchial pneumonia.

The board of equalization thought sales tax criticism would die out until the governor aired his views the other day . . Rolph criticised taxation of foodstuffs . . he hinted broadly he might advocate its repeal . . his statement, the board feels, lends substance to sporadic opposition which has cropped up against the sales tax . . era of state departmental publicity men appears closed . . once there were about 40 publicity men whose main job was to keep the press informed . . now there are only four left . . Recent unofficial ruling of Attorney General Webb has apparently checkmated Finance Director Vandegrift's efforts to divert state emergency fund appropriations to needy departments . . the matter was referred to Webb by Controller Ray Riley who felt Vandegrift was straining the interpretation of the word "emergency."

RED TAPE ON FEDERAL AID CUT BY 30 DAYS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—To expedite state approval of water and sewer projects necessary before federal aid may be obtained under the National Recovery Act, the state board of health has suspended the rule requiring a 30-day recess before permits are granted.

In the future, the board announced, permits will be granted upon presentation of projects acceptable to the board, the permit to be effective on a date to be fixed in each case.

The change in rules were expected to be an incentive for advancing projects to improve sanitation and assist the government in its unemployment relief program.

ANCIENT GOLD SCALES STILL TELL TRUTH

QUINCY, Sept. 14 (UP) There's something to be said for those old-fashioned gold [illegible].

According to a report of J. A. Johnson, an inspector for the state division of weights and measures, the ancient gold scales still in use in Plumas county continue to tell the truth.

Johnson found some scales dating back to 1864 which still are in excellent condition and capable of giving exact weights, he reported.

HIGHWAY WORK TO FILL 50,000 JOBS IN STATE

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—Behind the driving wheel of California's unprecedented million-dollar-a-week highway construction program sits Earl Lee Kelly, affable and able director of public works.

Probably no other official in the state's history has been compelled to oversee the expenditure of such a vast sum of public funds in as short a time.

Between September 15 and October 1, the department will open bids on $5,000,000 of highway contracts. Thereafter until January 1, bids will be opened at a rate of $1,000,000 each week.

Purpose of the road building drive is to put as many men to work in as short a time as possible. Kelly estimates that by the first of the year 50,000 new jobs will have been created ,directly and indirectly.

Kelly appears, at first meeting, to be a genial, easy-going and conciliatory man. Fact is, he's a stubborn fighter when crossed and possesses that indispensable executive asset—ability to say "no."

One of his hardest problems arose when Governor Rolph earnestly advocated gasoline tax diversion. Kelly of course, is a Rolph appointee. On the other hand, he believed sincerely the gas tax should be reserved for highway construction.

Diplomatically, and yet firmly, he stuck by his guns and steadfastly followed his convictions on this issue. Partly through his influence, the issue was referred to the people where his ideas were sustained.

From time to time, Kelly and Finance Director Rolland Vandegrift have clashed on matters of state policy. Kelly has managed to hold his own, and better .Even in a cabinet battle he manages to get over his point without creating too many official enemies.

Recently heavy pressure was exerted on him to prevent transfer of two district highway offices from Sacramento to Marysville and Stockton. It was all to no avail. His mind was made up and, as he admitted, only Governor Rolph could change it.

Kelly, a successful Redding business man, is a self-made man. He is only in his early forties, but has been a newsboy ,law student, aviator, mayor, business man and director of the tax research bureau. He now controls the Placer county highway on which, many years ago, he worked as a mule skinner.

The director started out in business in Redding as a title insurance man and made a success of it from the start. He went to war as a buck private in the 12th Infantry, eighth division. Since the world conflict he has become an aviation enthusiastic.

Mrs. Fay Evans visited in Nevada City Thursday evening.

Jack Conway of Sacramento is employed at Harris Drug Store while Mr. Harris is on a week's vacation in San Francisco. Mr. Conway is an uncle of Ray Davis of Nevada City.

CLOWDSLEY MAY BE LIEUT. GOV

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—If President Roosevelt's New Deal is successful enough to put his party into power in California ,one of those who hopes to ride the democratic tidal wave into office is F. C. "Tod" Clowdsley ,Stockton.

Clowdsley hasn't announced his candidacy yet, but it is known he aspires to be lieutenant-governor.

The Stockton lawyer was assembly speaker, pro tempore, last session—one of the first democrats to hold that post for many years—and a leader of the progressive and liberal block.

He was author of the public utility equalization bil (defeated) and the income tax measure (passed but vetoed). Also he was co-author of the Great Central Valley Water project legislation (passed) and the anti-capital punishment bill (defeated).

During most of the legislative session, Clowdsley was one of the most popular men in the legislature. Towards the close, however, he became involved in several bitter fights over bills and on several occasions was severly criticized by a number of his colleagues.

Clowdsley is modest and unassuming but is very effective in a catch-as-catch-can debate. He succeeded in getting through the assembly every major bill in which he was interested.

The candidacy of the Stockton assemblyman received its first real impetus during the closing days of the legislature when democratic members of the lower house met in secret caucus and unanimously agreed to support him. In return, northern California assemblymen promised to support any democratic southern California, man for governor.

It is understood Clowdsley feels if a democrat can ever be elected to high state office, 1934 will be the year. Consequently he is planning to launch an aggressive campaign along liberal and progressive lines.

COMMUNITY CHEST ACT MUST SUSTAIN SELF

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—Administration of the Community Land chest act, a relief measure passed by the legislature, must be self-supporting, according to an opinion by Attorney General U. S. Webb.

It is the apparent intent of the act, Webb said, to empower the state commissioner of corporations to make assessments on the estimated cost of the relief housing projects, to finance investigations and other necessary work in connection with consideratio of applicatios.

The fee may not exceed one-half of 1 per cent of the project cost.

FINGER CRUSHED WHILE TEARING DOWN GARAGE

CAMPTONVILLE, Sept. 14—Julius E. Pauly had the misfortune of smashing the middle finger on his left hand last week while at work in tearing down the garage on Main street, a large plank catching his finger and crushing it, breaking the bone. He went to Nevada City where an x-ray was taken and medical attention given. He has a very painful injury which will keep him on the laid up list for several days.

Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Walton of Oakland visited Mrs. Walton's niece, Mrs. Ed Martine and husband, in Nevada City last Saturday. They were on their way to Moores Flat for the week end, where they have mining interests.

CHAMBER DISCUSSES SALE OF SKI CLUB SITE

A sale of the Ski Club site was discussed at the meeting Monday night of the Chamber of Commerce. Recently persons interested in it have examined the property and promise a definite answer shortly.

J. E. Gooding, manager of the telephone company in the Twin Cities, was present and explained the service and improvements.

The usual donation of fruit was made to the Nevada County Reunion, at Mosswood Park in Oakland. Secretary W. H. Griffith prepared the consignment for shipment Wednesday.

The Yuba Pass highway was brought up for discussion. It seems the many turns and narrow road make it necessary for a motorcycle patrol to lead the recent Cook Tours excursion in their large stages. The Chamber will ask the State Highway Commission for improvement in it.

As the state takes over management of many C. C. C. Camps this winter a number of sites were considered for relocating those that are in the higher mountains. A motion was adopted tendering the good offices of the Chamber of Commerce in selecting suitable locations.

Personal

Mrs. George Neagle and daughter Nadine, are visiting friends in Oakland.

M. H. D. Emerson, formerly of the Amador Dispatch, was here recently in connection with mining business.

Misses Edith True and E. Loughridge, former residents of Nevada City spent last week end in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Buffington are the happy parents of a six pound son, born at the Nevada City Sanitarium, Sept., 12. Both mother and son are doing well. Dr. Frank McCullough was the attending physician.

Mrs. Rose Hegarty has returned from a vacation in the bay district. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter Hegarty and two children, spent two weeks with Mrs. Rose Hegarty.

Miss Martha Lawrence has been engaged as a special teacher to teach the 20 pupils in the emergency school in You Bet an old ghost mining town of Eastern Nevada county.

Miss Alice Langman a member of the Plaza Grocery store and sister Mrs. Libby Shields are enjoying the Chicago Fair and a tour of the eastern United States.

Among those attending the funeral of the late James Wearne last Sunday, were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Evans, Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. G. Scarfe Jr., of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Will Lester of Dunsmuir, all relatives of the deceased.

Thomas Marshall, former treasurer-secretary of the North Star Mining Company, of Grass Valley, who was here on mining business, has returned to his home in Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Morgan of the bay district and her brother, Gerald Hogan, spent last week end visiting with Mrs. Thomas Hogan, mother of the latter two. Gerald is attending U. C. at Berkeley.

Mrs. Leland Smith and mother, Mrs. Caldwell of Alturas, motored to Sacramento Wednesday where Mrs. Smith's mother will receive medical attention. Mrs. Caldwell has been spending a few days in Nevada City visiting her daughter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moore and child who spent the summer with her parents, Postmaster and Mrs. P. G. Scadden, returned to their home in Pittsburgh recently.

Mrs. Harry Kent (Minnine Blasauf) and three daughters of Seattle were recent Nevada City visitors. The family left Nevada City about 55 years ago going to Seattle when it was a small town.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paine and his sister were in Nevada City Tuesday, from the bay district. The Paines are formerly of North San Juan and were a prominent Nevada county family. Mr. Paine is secretary of the Nevada county Reunion being held in Mooswood Park next Sunday.

CONGRESSMAN RELATES STORY OF GOLD BATTLE

Congressman Harry Englebright, who, tired and half sick, slipped into his old home on East Broad street early Monday morning, avoiding the ovation which his fellow townsmen were preparing for him in honor of his victory in the long battle to raise the gold embargo, yesterday was still a bit under the weather, but beginning to recover in the bracing air of Nevada City, and the first real rest he has enjoyed in many a long day.

Recounting the story of President's action in lifting the embargo on gold exports, Congressman Englebright yesterday said to a representative of the Nevada City Nugget: The embargo was placed on gold on April 5. On April 6 I started to work for its removal, knowing exactly what it would mean to the gold mining industry if it were permitted to stand.

STAYS ON THE JOB

"I determined not to leave Washington until the embargo was lifted, even it required two years to accomplish it."

This resolution was in line with his pledge to the mining industry when he was elected to Congress.

He made a tremendous personal sacrafice in order to bring this about. It meant that he had stayed in Washington throughout the hot summer months. It meant digging into ancient history and delving into international politics and furthermore it meant being on the job twenty four hours a day.

He found himself beset on every turn by obstacles which had to be overcome—legal technicalities and apparently insurmountable financial problems many of which were involved. One by one these questions were taken up and solved.

The first big problem with which he was faced was the gold hoarders. The government was asking that the hoarded gold be returned to the Federal Reserve Banks and in the face of a rising market for gold these hoarders would be little inclined to turn in their gold. Many attempted to do so with the proviso that if gold raised in value they would be credited with the difference.

GOLD BONDS INVOLVED

Also there were different bonds, notes, and other securities which promised payment in gold on their face. When the United States went off the gold standard such contracts were abrogated and read instead: "In legal tender of the United States." This meant a saving of several billions to the country.

And finally from a legal standpoint the mint could not purchase the gold in advance of the set price of $20.67.

From an international standpoint there were the American securities held in foreign countries which contracted to pay in gold. A billion and a half of such securities are held in foreign countries. There is at present a test case being tried to determine the validity of this bond provision.

Englebright found also that some of the Administration's closest advisors were not interested in gold production saying that it would have a tendency to deflate currency while the administration was strongly in favor of inflation.

His first problems was to satisfy the Treasury Department regarding the meaning of the word "bullion." By considerable research he found that the word came from an old French word first used in 1336 which meant boiling. Therefore in order to be bullion the gold must go through a heating process and be melted into a bar or ingot. This therefore excluded concentrates, precipitates and amalgams. Gold dust and nuggets also could not be classed as bullion.

OFFERED A TEST CASE

He told the Secretary of the Treasury that he was willing to make a test case and would take a load of concentrates across the Mexican border and inform the Treasury Department that he was doing so and make a test case to prove that he was not shipping bullion.

On August 12 the Treasury Department decided that concentrates, percipitates and amalgams could not be classed as bullion and could therefore to shipped to foreign countries.

On August 29 the President signed the act which lifted the embargo and authorized the Federal Reserve Bank to act as an agent to sell gold at the world price which the Treasury Department telgraphs daily to the Federal Reserve Bank.

[illegible] up [illegible] bright remained in Washington to help in these [illegible] years strenously insisted that gold and industry buy their gold in the open market rather than from the mint and was successful in having a clause to this effect incorporated in the President's order.

PRESIDENT DEEPLY INTERESTED

Congressman Englebright stated that President Roosevelt used every effort to reconcile the many conditions that complicated the problem to the best interests of the country and at the same time work out a method whereby the gold mines could obtain the maximum world market price. This was accomplished by the executive order of August 29.

New York and Boston papers in commenting upon the act proclaimed it the greatest event in the history of the gold mining industry since 1848 and gave Congressman Englebright credit as the man who kept the gold in gold mining.

SUIT BEGINS TO FORCE OPTION SETTLEMENT

J. E. Marriott, E. S. Marriott and L. E. Stein have commenced an action in the superior court against Gordon Bettles in which the plaintiff ask judgement in the sum of $15,000.

This suit involves an alleged option by the plaintiffs on the Queen Lil mill, located on the Downieville highway west of the city limits of Nevada City, owned by the defendant, the contention being that an agreement whereby they were to release the option for a stock consideration, has not been fulfilled by the defendant. W. J. Cassettari, of Grass Valley, is the attorney for the plaintiffs.

Elmer Poore, who has mining interests in the You Bet section, visited in Nevada City Tuesday.

Nevada County Calls

She calls in the dusk of
twilight,
And her children pause to hear;
She calls with her scented
breezes,
And her sunshine warm and clear.
She calls with her whispering
forests,
Of fir and towering pine,
She calls with dim trails leading
To a silent and lonely mine.

She calls when the heart is weary
And her voice brings golden dreams
Of lofty peaks, snow crested,
And laughing mountain
streams;
Of dear, familiar places,
Hillside and shady dell,
Of winter's snowy beauty,
And springtime's magic spell.

She calls in the dusk of
twilight,
With voices loved of old,
With tender, wistful memories
More precious than all her gold;
And though, as the wide world
lures them,
Afar from her hills they roam,
Her wandering children hear the call
And smilingly whisper,
"home."

Congratulations to those who are to enjoy the Nevada County Annual Reunion to be held in Oakland next Sunday.

Increased activity evidenced in our county should make of this an outstanding Reunion.

At the beginning of this Fall building activities are far ahead of last year.

Since the eyes of the country are turning to Nevada county as an outstanding center for mining, many are looking to this community as an ideal site for summer homes. Lets boost and work for the continued progress of our favorite city and County!

We shall "Do Our Part" by keeping on hand at all times, the necessary lumber and building materials for the use of all those who are building-minded. And our office has just been equipped with the latest Home Building Plans and modern building suggestions.

Just call at our office or phone 29 and we will gladly co-operate with you.

VANDEGRIFT AND RILEY WAR OVER EMERGENCY FUND

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—The emergency fund war will be fought out in the courts.

Finance Director Rolland Vandegrift has disclosed he will file mandamus action against State Controller Ray L. Riley to compel approval of emergency fund allocations to various state agencies totaling approximately $360,000.

Riley had refused to approve the fund diversion. He held the money was intended, in the main, for state agencies who had been specifically refused additional appropriations by the legislature during the mid-summer session.

Vandegrift, aggressively sure of his position, contends Riley stepped outside his authority in refusing the emergency fund allocations. Likewise he felt the adverse attitude of Attorney General U. S. Webb was uncalled for.

"The fact it," he argued, "the law provides the emergency fund shall be administered by the director of finance. Insofar as the policy of handling that fund is concerned, Mr. Riley and Mr. Webb have nothing to do with it."

Vandegrift added it was within Webb's rights to rule on what constituted an "emergency," if the allocations were questioned. But, he added, his proposed emergency fund appropriations were clearly within the law.

The finance director paid his compliments to Assemblyman Lawrence Cobb, Los Angeles, chairman of the ways and means committee. Cobb had charged the director was "assuming legislative functions by appropriating funds for state agencies who couldn't get more money out of the legislature."

Vandegrift said he believed "Cobb was contradictory and has 'back tracked' from his public statements during the legislative session."

"Cobb said time and again that if certain state agencies discovered they couldn't operate on their budget allocation, they could secure financial assistance from the emergency fund. His about-face indicates he is laying the foundation for his next political campaign."

Among the emergency fund appropriations are $76,000 for the department of social welfare; $72,000 for the division of narcotics and $100,000 for forest fire control.

MINING DEVELOPMENT

HUSSEY MINE

At the Hussey mine in the Willow Valley section also operated by the West Mines Corporation, they are drifting east on the evin at the 750 foot level. A good showing has been made and a large portion of the ore is being hand picked and seved for milling.

LAVA CAP

Retimbering of the Central shaft at the Lava Cap mine has been completed to the 850 foot level and Superintendent Otto Schiffner is preparing to sink to the 1050 foot level.

A new seventy foot head frame is being erected and a 1700 cubic foot C. P. compressor is being installed. Excavation for the erection of a 200 ton mill is well on its way. Underground development will begin as soon as they complete the sinking to the 1050 level.

BANNER MINE

The Banned mine is also being reopened by the Lava Cap. This was formerly the Star Spangled Banner, a famous old producer .Here various holdings have been erected. These include blacksmith shop, bunk house, office ,storehouse and saw mill.

The shaft which is down 850 feet has been retimbered 100 feet below the surface. Unwatering will be commenced in about two weeks. A power line has been run from the Lava Cap, a distance of about a mile and a half.

O. E. Schiffner is the superintendent in charge of both properties.

BULLION MINE

At the Bullion mine just south of Grass Valley on the Auburn road, preliminary work is being pushed as rapidly as possible. The unwatering was completed several weeks ago and rails are now being installed in the shaft, which is 1500 feet deep. Development work will start as soon as the head frame, which is now under construction ,is completed. The hoist and compressor have been installed and are housed.

HOGE DEVELOPMENT

The Hoge Development Company is running a drift on the 800 foot level east of the contact. They are also cutting a station at the 1000 level. The mill is running three shifts full time. Ninety men are employed in the mine and mill.

BRUNSWICK

True to his promise to open up the Brunswick mine if the price of gold went up, Manager Errol Mac Boyle of the Idaho-Maryland has started the work of clearing away the debris and preparing to unwater the old workings.

About two months will be required to complete it. The shaft is also being retimbered .Twenty men are at work. As soon as deelopment begins the number will be increased to 100.

The Brunswick which has a record of $3,000,000 production was shut down seven years ago. It is owned by the Idaho Maryland Mining Company, who installed a flotation plant on the property about ten years ago trucking the ore from the Idaho-Maryland.

There are two shafts on the property. The old shaft is 1250 feet on the incline and the new shaft is 1350 vertical.

EMPRESS

The unwatering of the Empress mine at Newtown was completed 10 days ago. About two months since a tremendous inflow of water accured making the installation of additional pumps necessary and temporarily stopping development work.

Drifting to the vein on the 500 and 1000 levels was begun this week.

The mill is running two shifts putting through the rock from the development work. Twenty-five men are employed.

CANADA HILL

The Canada Hill mine operated by the same company are drifting on a vein on the number 9 level. A one one foot ledge of highly mineralized quartz was uncovered at that point which is about 700 feet down on the incline.

There are three crews of men working on leases. Two crews are in the main shaft getting out ore. A third crew is sinking a shaft from the surface near the main shaft on a split of the Canada Hill vein. The work was just commenced this week.

QUEEN LIL MILL

The Queen Lil mill which is operated by the West Coast Mines Corporation is running custom ore mainly, or small test lots. A flotation plant was installed a few months ago and a number of operators are anxious to try out this method with their ore.

SEARLS INSPECTS ZEABRIGHT

Fred Searls was here last week superintending the reopening of the Zeabright Mine in the Bear Valley section, 25 miles east of Nevada City. A large body of low grade ore is being developed. It was worked in the early days.

SPANISH MINE

The tramway at the Spanish mine has been completed the one and seven-eighths miles from the orebody to the mill. Two thousand tons of rock has been broken, ready for conveyance to the mill. The cyanide plant at the mill has been completed. About 35 men are employed.

GOLDEN CENTER MINE

The 20 stamp mill at the Golden Center mine is working steadily on ore with good values recovered from concentration and flotation. Development is on the 1100 levele. The mine is 1300 feet deep and the company plans to sink to the 1500 foot level. L. S. Wincapaw is superintendent for the Cooley Butler interests. one hundred and ten men are employed. The company recently installed a 500 horse power Deisel engine.

ALCALDE MINE

The Alcalde property in the Deadman's Flat district below Grass Valley has just completed the erection of a 1000 foot capacity head frame, installed a compressor and hoisting plant and erected several buildings. The manager and crew of four men have also sunk a three compartment shaft 55 feet. The Alcalde is now known as the Monte Christo with M. J. McQuire, superintendent.

Electric power is to be hooked up within a few days. The company will sink to the 1000 foot level according to plans.

BOSS MINE

The Boss mine near North San Juan has made their seventh shipment of 50 tons of ore and will be ready to make another shipment by the end of the week. The ore is now being trucked to Nevada City, shipped by railroad to San Francisco and then by boat to Tacoma, Washngtoni Twelve men are employed with C. J. Lyser in charge.

MACK MINES, LTD.

A power line has been built to the old McCutcheon property, renamed the Mack Mines, Ltd., located near the Canada Hill mine. Bruce Wallace superintendent has a crew of men erecting a head frame and installing an electric hoist. Pumping equipment is being installed to pump a heavy stream of water encountered at the 45 foot depth in their projected 125 foot shaft.

REMINGTON HILL GRAVEL

Frank Crampton and partner, Mr. Boyce, have a crew of men building a flume to carry water to placer mine their large gravel holdings south of Washington known as the Remington placer property. They are expected to start operations the latter part of this month.

ENTERPRISE MINE

The Enterprise mine shaft which was sunk to the 100 foot level struck a heavy flow of water and a 50 gallon per minute pump was installed. J. P. McFadden is superintendent.

OPTION TAKEN

It is reported that the Yuba Sierra Company has taken options on the Boreham property south of Nevada City, near Town Talk and the Ideal Gold Mines adjoining it.

It is also reported that the Fraction claim in the Willow Valley district has been bonded and is being reopened.

ORIENTAL MINE

The mill has been shut down at the Oriental mine at Alleghany temporarily and there is talk of using a diamond drill to discover new ore bodies.

Five men are busily engaged in doing development work on the raise above the lower level of the mine which is 300 feet deep. Good looking ore is being taken out from this development work and will be milled as soon as the mill starts which it is soon expected.

GRAVEL AT ALLEGHANY

Morgan and Henningdon, of Reno, Nevada, are working two shifts of 13 men on Kanaka Creek which flows through the town of Alleghany between deep canyon walls.

They have installed a plant for taking gold concentrates from the gravel of Kanaka Creek. A conveyor belt is used to carry gravel to the plant. Two large screens sift the gravel down that it may be run through the machinery .Last week they picked up two nuggets that were worth $10.

The camp can be seen plainly from Alleghany and at night strings of electric lights twinkle throughout the night shift.

Just below Morgan and Henningdon the two Kellogg brothers are successfully operating.

Below these operators there are many snipers on the creek seeking for the precious yellow metal.

MINE ACTIVITY FOR YEARS TO COME, FORECAST

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—Immediate organization of a state-wide association of mining men which would include Nevada county, and better support for the state bureau of mines on the part of the state administration were urged here today by Charles G. Johnson, state treasurer, who presided at the mining day luncheon at the California state fair.

Treasurer Johnson prophesied that the revival of mining in California will continue, and that the prosperity of this gigantic industry, now third in size, will have a material influence upon the prosperity of the entire state.

"The greatest storehous of natural wealth—inexhaustible and valuable—is the precious metals in the mountains and valleys of California," he said. "It is a resource that will accomodte every emergency of this generation, as well as generations to follow.

EVERY MAN POTENTIAL PROSPECTOR

"Every able-bodied man is a potential prospector. If he is out of employment today, a groub-stake should be made available through some agency. This will have a greater benefit to him than charity at the soup kitchen day after day. The largest producing gold properties in our state today have been located by miners on a grub-stake.

"The advance of gold adds materially to the incentive as well as the romance of mining. The world today is gold-minded. There is more capital available today for gold mining than ever before. Mining has survived the evil practices of wildcat promoters. Today it is our third largest industry and as such contributes in that proportion to the economice and industrial life of our state.

OLD PROPERTIES TO REOPEN

"The revival of mining will continue. Old properties will be reopened and new ones discovered. The potential possibilities of developing the industry are gigantic.

"The mining fraternity should awaken and apply themselves to the conditions of the miner. Through the lack of proper organization for the protection of mining, many handicaps have been placed upon the industry. These should be modified or removed entirely.

MINING BUREAU NEGLECTED

"The state bureau of mines should be the directcing agency for the protection and safeguarding of the interest of the miner, and all public relations and regulations relating to mining should be centralized in that bureau. The mining bureau of California has been woefully disregarded and is nothing more than a specimen museum. The indifference of the administrative authority of the state toward mining can best be expressed by refferring to the appropriation for the maintenance of the bureau of mining during a period of two years in the amount of $136,000. During this same period an appropriation of $300,000 was made for the building of a structure known as the San Francisco cow barn.

"Prosperity in mining will have a direct influence upon the prosperity of our state."

YOU BET GRAVEL MINE TO RESUME OPERATION

The You Bet Mining Company, south east of Nevada City, headed by Frank Chase, of Salt Lake City, has been working on the large gravel property in the You Bet and Red Dog district since early spring.

The company has now about completed the ditch system and will soon be able to attack Brown's Hill, under which it is believed part of the rich old channel lies.

Past hydraulic operations in this section have left immense walls of gravel that are 100 feet high in some places. Former operators cutting her eand there took the richest gold bearing streaks, using crude olt-time methods.

TRAFFIC DUTY ON HIGHWAYS IS SPREAD WIDER

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—(UP)—New responsibilities imposed by the legislature and increased state highway mileage have added to the duties of California's 500 and some odd state highway patrolmen, Raymond Cato, chief of the state highway patril, has disclosed.

Some conception of the area patrolled by these trim and efficient highway officers was revealed in a seven month's report from January 1, 1933 to July 31, inclusive—which showed they traveled a total of 6,637,794 miles. That mileage is equivalent to about 265 trips around the world.

Thirteen officers in Nevada county patrolled 50,469 miles of high way during the seven-month period.

One of Cato's major problems was caused by addition of approximately 6,800 miles of county road to the state highway system.

Without funds to increase his personnel, the patrol chief said he was compelled to limit coverage of this secondary highway system to occasional patrols. In other words, primary highway surveillance will not be sacrificed by reason of the new state highway mileage.

The highway patrol must now handle detour problems and traffic routings where state highway road construction is under way. It must also assist the board of equalization in collection of truck taxes.

GRIZZLY MINE OWNER ARRIVES FROM BOSTON

Mrs. Paul Andrews and daughter Roxana, arrived in Nevada City Tuesday by motor from Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Andrews is one of the owners of the Grizzley mine and left Wednesday for the property. She contemplates making California her home and her daughter will attend high school in Nevada City this winter.

This property was formerly owned by Joe Merriam and owing to ill health he was compelled to dispose of the mining property.

The Grizzley mine lies on the North Bloomfield channel in Grizzly canyon near the Delhi sawmill on the Alleghany road.

OSTERMAN AND BRIDE VISIT MOTHER IN NEVADA CITY

Mr. and Mrs. George Osterman of Hollywood spent Sunday and Labor Day with his mother, Mrs. Clara Scarfe. This is George's first trip home since his recent marriage and his wife's first visit. She was delighted with Nevada City.

He is Nevada City native, engineer for McGraw Hill Co., and his many Nevada City friends were pleased to have the opportunity of meeting his charming and attractive young wife.

Miss Alma Marsh, who spent last week with her sister, Mrs. A. Wisker in Sacramento, returned home Saturday evening. She was accompanied home by her friend, Miss Carrie Arthur of the bay region, who spent the week end in Nevada City.

SOME PARENTS DO NAME GIRL BABIES, NIRA

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14—What's in a name?

"Ha," commented Marie B. Stringer, chief of the state bureau of vital statistics, "you'd be surprised. There's a little geography, and sometimes some current events. And styles in names are changing all the time."

Just to prove her point she glanced through the record of California births for the last few months.

"We've had quite a few girls named Nira recently. With things going as they are we can expect a lot more, I suppose," said Mrs. Stringer.

"It was not so long ago that a lot of boys were christened 'Franklin Delano.' That's always the case, however. Before this administration many birth certificates carried the names of Herbert and Calvin."

It must be the California influence, or something, but the most popular names for girls are Barbara, which leads the list, and Beverly, runner-up as a favorite with fond parents.

As for the general trend of names for children, Mrs. Stringer had this to say:

"It used to be that the simple, and many times bibical, names were the most popular for girls—names like Mary, Ruth, Ester, or Ann. But that isn't the case anymore.

"Double names such as Mary Anne Lois May, Ella Marie and many much fancier are popular.

"What about the boys? Well, styles haven't changed so much. You'll still find that there are plenty of Johns, Roberts, Josephs, and the like. Parents evidently don't worry so much about their boy's name as they do in the case of a baby girl."

Mrs. Geary Feagan and son, Raymond, and daughter, Miss Dorothy, have returned from a week spent in Los Angeles. Mrs. Feagan and Dorothy will remain here in order that she may enter high school while Raymond will return to Los Angeles to resume his studies.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Miss Helen Searls to Wed William B. Bray

Miss Helen Searls of San Francisco has sent invitations to friends in Nevada City and Grass Valley, inviting them to her wedding to William B. Bray. The happy event will take place at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon September 20.

She is the daughter of the late Fred Searls Sr., and Mrs. Searls. Miss Searls was born in Nevada City and graduated from the local schools, later continuing her studies through the University of California and also a graduate nurse from the University hospital in San Francisco.

She has returned to Nevada City often to visit here. About two years ago. Miss Searls was the leader of a troop of Camp Fire Girls of Nevada City and took an active interest in their affairs.

Her many friends in this section are happy to send best wishes and congratulations.

Elks Lodge Enjoy Roast Beef Banquet

The Nevada City Lodge of Elks held their first semi-monthly dinner last Thursday evening in the dining room of the Elks building. The chair officers of the lodge put on the delicious dinner under the leadership of Exalted Ruler Percy V. Carr. It consisted of roast beef and all good things that accompany such a dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McCormack and little daughter of San Francisco were Nevada City visitors Wednesday.

Circle A of M. E. Church Enjoy Program

The Circle A members of the Methodist church held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the Epworth League rooms.

There was a large attendance and a most enjoyable program was rendered.

Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

P. T. A. Meeting is Postponed to Sept. 22

The Parent Teachers meeting that was scheduled for Friday, September 15, has been postponed until Friday, September 22.

A splendid program is being managed for this meeting details of which will appear in a later issue.

NEVADA COUNTY WOMEN WINS STATE FAIR AWARD

Mrs. Ethel Vail Deeble, born and reared in Nevada City, won first prize for artificial flowers at the State Fair. In the windows of Hartung's jewelery shop in Grass Valley, are exhibited the beautiful floral display which won the award.

Mrs. Deeble imports the materials for Japan. The rosies of all colors, and other blossoms which she makes have the very texture of the natural blooms and completely deceive the eye. His sprays of gardenias, orchids and lillies of the valley have an exotic charm, which is heightened by the discreet use of appropriate perfumes. Mrs. Deeble ,who gives lessons in the making, and sells materials for these flowers, resides at 412 Temby street, Grass Valley.

MANY BEAUTIFUL EXHIBITS FOR FLOWER SHOW

The Woman's Civic Club have been making every effort to make this the fourth annual Flower Show, the most successful of them all. The gorgeous flowers and plants will be on display both afternoon and evening tomorrow.

Those who have already announced their intention of making exhibits of specimens from their gardens are: Mesdames. E. W. Schreiber, R. J. Bennetts, A. W. Hoge, W. L. Mobley, P. G. Scadden,R. R. Goyne, B. L. Syms, J. R. Ivey, A. H. Hallett, Misses Minnie Brand, Gertrude Goyne, Winnie Mullov, and Messrs H. M. Leete, and R. C. Martens.

The Club has given a general invitation to all who may have beautiful plants, flowers, or sprays of flowers to make displays and space will be allowed if asked for. For those who cannot fill a table, single blossoms or bouquets may be arranged for, exhibitors to bring their own containers.

In the afternoon the doors will be open from 2 to 5 o'clock.

The C. C. C. Camp boys are invited as guests from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m.

There will be flowers for sale at the close of the evening.

The afternoon program consists of, Vocal Solo—Mrs. Charles Elliott; Whistling Solo—Mrs. George Stine; Piano Solo—Miss Minnie Brand.

The evening program is as follows: Vocal Solo—John Matthews, accompanied by Mrs. Oakley Johns, both of Grass Valley; Piano Solo—Edna Cadwalader Goede; Vocal Solo—Mrs. Charles Elliott; Whistling Solo—Mrs. George Stine; Vocal Solo—Mrs. Katherine Celio, accompanied by Marshall Giselman.

The proceeds from this flower show will be used by the Woman's Civic Club for general civic work in this city and community.

MISS NELLIE PASCOE SUMMONED BY DEATH

Miss Nellie Marguerite Pascoe, who suffered a stroke of paralysis about a month ago, passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Wodell Tuesday morning.

She was born December 9, 1886, in the Gold Flat section, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. Pascoe where she grew to womanhood. She attended the local school there.

Miss Pascoe was of a quiet reserved nature with a kindly word for everyone and will be missed by her friends.

She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Charles Wodell and two cousins, Mrs. Sadie Whiting and John Berryman of San Francisco.

Funeral services were held at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at tne Holmes Funeral Home with Rev. H. H. Buckner conducting the services. The body was taken to East Lawn cemetery in Sacramento for cremation.

MAYOR ARMSTRONG IS CALLED BY DEATH

The remains of Mayor Pinckney Armstrong, retired army officer of this city, who passed away unexpectedly, following his recent return from Letterman's hospital, where he had received medical treatment, will rest in the Little Church mortuary of W. R. Jefford & Son until 3 o'clock this afternoon. Friends who desire may pay their last tribute to his memory.

The body will be conveyed to San Francisco for the final obsequies, which will take place at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the Presidio.

Mayor Armstrong had served throughout his active career in practically all posts of the United States and its insular possessions.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mildred Armstrong, a brother, Ira F. Armstrong of this city, a sister, Mrs. G. A. Rust of St. Louis, and two step sisters, Mrs. Susan Snook of Chicago, and Mrs. Winnifred Kent of Kenny, Ill.

The home of Mayor Armstrong in this city was a rendevous for his many friends, particularly those officers of San Francisco with whom he was associated for many years. He had a wide circle of friends among the sportsmen of the state and with Mrs. Armstrong was very fond of whipping the streams of this section for trout. His genial friendly presence will be sadly missed in Nevada City.

Mrs. V. V. Foley and children left Thursday for Brentwood where she will visit with her parents for a time.
